Hamblin's teachings go beyond the conventional understanding of spirituality. He emphasized the importance of expanding one's consciousness to tap into the limitless possibilities that exist in this non spacial universe. He believed that once individuals realize their true nature and connect with the higher realms, they can manifest their desires and create a life of abundance and fulfillment.

Connecting with the Non Spacial Universe

So, how can one establish a connection with the non spacial universe? Hamblin outlined several key practices that can help individuals enhance their spiritual growth and open themselves to the profound realms of existence.

Meditation and Contemplation

One of the fundamental practices recommended by Hamblin is meditation. By quieting the mind and focusing inward, individuals can cultivate a deeper sense of awareness and presence. Through regular meditation practices, one can align their consciousness with the non spacial universe and tap into its profound wisdom.

In addition to meditation, Hamblin emphasized the power of contemplation. This involves reflecting on profound questions and concepts, allowing for a deeper understanding and integration of spiritual truths. By contemplating the nature of the non spacial universe, individuals can expand their consciousness and perceive reality from a higher perspective.

Visualization and Affirmations

Another technique taught by Hamblin is the use of visualization and affirmations. By vividly visualizing their desired outcomes and consistently affirming positive statements, individuals can bring their aspirations into manifestation. According to Hamblin, the non spacial universe responds to our thoughts and beliefs, creating our reality based on the vibrations we emit.

By harnessing the power of visualization and affirmative thinking, one can align their desires with the infinite potential of the non spacial universe and manifest their dreams into reality.

The Legacy of Henry Thomas Hamblin

Although Henry Thomas Hamblin lived during the early twentieth century, his teachings remain relevant and influential to this day. His books, including "Dynamic Thought" and "Within You is the Power," continue to inspire spiritual seekers and offer profound insights into the non spacial universe.

Hamblin's message transcends religious boundaries and appeals to individuals from diverse backgrounds. His teachings emphasize the inherent power within each individual to shape their reality and live a life of purpose and abundance.

Quotes by Henry Thomas Hamblin

“Your mind is the instrument by which you can draw from the great treasure house of the non spacial universe. And its capacity is unlimited, for it is connected with the Divine Law, with the Infinite Mind, and only your limited thoughts and beliefs restrict its possibilities.”

“When you begin to think and feel in tune with the Divine Mind, you connect with the limitless power of the non spacial universe. This connection enables you to transform your life and manifest your desires.”

In the current model of our universe, the Big Bang sprang forth from an infinitely small point and created a universe, which continues to expand from that point today. Elements of this model have not been easy to accept but the evidence is very compelling and we seem to be left with little choice. One need only point a telescope to the night sky and observe the galaxies flying away to conclude that everything must have been closer together at some point in the past. Indeed, after looking at all the data, it seems impossible to escape the that our universe emerged from a single point. In this paper, I would like to propose an alternative interpretation of this data, which creates a new model of the universe and leads to a different sort of Big Bang and subsequent expansion of the universe.
