For many years I was involved in the death care industry. For several of those years I served as a deputy coroner in a rural coastal town, and a deputy medical examiner/investigator in a rural, Southwestern community. During these years, I encountered some strange and interesting calls, that I will share with my readers.

In book one, I receive a call to pick up a deceased man in a narrow trailer in the middle of the forest. However, the strangeness of this call gets stranger as the night progresses.
